

Drawing up a list of related words for discovery

The following verbs are sorted out in lists of related terms. In some cases, they have been gathered around a common word like "cry". In some other cases, listing depends on a common semantic area like "gestures". Once you have discovered their meaning, you may want to complete the lists with more terms and create a digital mind map from each group. You may also complete the phrases/idioms the terms may belong to, and later use them in sentences or employ any other strategy to foster consolidation.
