The following Webquest includes an exercise on page 3 which has a focus on the discovery of the meaning of new words by looking them up online, and it also integrates the use of a vocabulary log as a complementary strategy.

WEBQUEST: A webquest is a research activity that requires learners to collect information about a subject using the Web. A mini-webquest is one that uses ONE major site, as opposed to several, but as the site contains multiple links, you will have the opportunity to use a variety of resources as you explore that one site. Poetry is a sphere of human expression that feeds on the magic of the power of language. You will be provided with a link to access an initial website which reviews a book about poet Pablo Neruda's life and art. Through the site's hypertextual links, you are expected to resolve the problems and complete the tasks that follow:

TASK 1: Decide to what extent the following pictures are relevant to an understanding of Neruda's early awakening to the importance of a poet's mission. Then write a short paragraph interpreting the symbolism of the story in which such images are embedded.
